

Table of Contents

Introduction

- 1. Competing for Rights and identity: citizenship and antisemitism in fin-de-siècle Algeria
- 2. Watering the tree of liberties with Jewish blood: Max Régis, Néos, and the explosion of antisemitism in Algeria, 1898
- 3. Navigating multiple identities and evolving French patriotism
- 4. The politics of status anxieties and unequal rights in interwar Colonial Algeria: Jewish-Muslim conflicts and the 1934 Constantine 'pogrom'
- 5. The popular front, Algerian nationalism, and evolving institutional antisemitism, 1935–1940
- 6. Rupture: Vichy, state antisemitism, and the Crémieux Decree
- 7. Broken identities: post World War II and the Algerian War.