

Contents

List of Figures, Maps and Tables IX

List of Appendices XII

Introduction: Historiography of the Commercial Transition 1

- 1 From Slaves to 'Legitimate Commerce': Different Places, Different Times 3
- 2 West African Trade with the Atlantic World 12
- 3 Accounting for Regional Differences 13
- 4 Organisation 23

PART 1

Trends in the (Non-Slave) Trade with West Africa Over the Eighteenth Century

- 1 Regional Patterns of (Non-Slave) Trade in the First Half of the Eighteenth Century 27
  - 1 The Commodity Trade in the Early Eighteenth Century 29
  - 2 Trade in Africa in the Eighteenth Century 32
- 2 Commercial Agriculture and Slave Ship Provisioning 1680–1800 35
  - 1 Did the Transatlantic Slave Trade Boost West African Commercial Agriculture? 37
  - 2 Main Results 48
  - 3 Changing Relative Prices and Trade Risks 54
  - 4 Revised Estimates of West African Food Exports, 1681–1807 57
  - 5 Why did British Provisioning Strategies Differ and what were the Impacts on Different Regions? 59Appendices 68
- 3 The Transatlantic Slave and Commodity Trades in the Second Half of the Eighteenth Century 114
  - 1 Measuring the Volume and Value of the Commodity Trade 117
  - 2 Real Value and Structure of West Africa's Commodity Trade 122
  - 3 Regional Trade 130
  - 4 Market Exchange and the Slave Trade 137Appendices 138

PART 2

The Long-Term Roots of the Commercial Transitions: Case Studies

|          |                                                                        |            |
|----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 4 | The Gold Coast: Gold, Wealth and Power Amongst the Akans        | 141 |
| 1        | Area of study                                                          | 143        |
| 2        | Long-term Trade Contacts                                               | 144        |
| 3        | A New Interpretation of the Impact of Abolition                        | 149        |
| 4        | Economic and Political Considerations in 1808                          | 155        |
| 5        | Gold and the Asante State                                              | 165        |
| 6        | Household Labour Decisions                                             | 171        |
|          | Appendices                                                             | 175        |
| 5 | The Bight of Biafra: From Export Slavery to Slave Production    | 178 |
| 1        | Area of Study                                                          | 180        |
| 2        | External Trade                                                         | 181        |
| 3        | The Value of the Commodity Trade and 'comey'                           | 185        |
| 4        | Britain and Palm Oil Trading                                           | 189        |
| 5        | Institutional Development in Biafra                                    | 197        |
| 6        | The Demand for Labour and the Internal Slave Trade                     | 201        |
| 7        | Household Production of Palm Oil                                       | 206        |
|          | Appendices                                                             | 213        |
| 6 | The Bight of Benin: Dahomey and the Dominance of Export Slavery | 218 |
| 1        | Area of study                                                          | 220        |
| 2        | Long-term Trends in Dahomey's Trade                                    | 221        |
| 3        | Comparative Value of the Slave and Commodity Trades                    | 224        |
| 4        | Trading Partners                                                       | 227        |
| 5        | Dahomean Militarism                                                    | 229        |
| 6        | Militarism and Labour                                                  | 237        |
|          | Conclusion                                                      | 248 |
| 1        | Long-Term Patterns of Trade                                            | 249        |
| 2        | Diverging Trajectories                                                 | 250        |
| 3        | The Real Impact of Britain's Abolition Campaign                        | 253        |
| 4        | Implications and Future Research                                       | 253        |
|          | Bibliography                                                    | 255 |
|          | Published Contemporary Sources                                         | 255        |
|          | Secondary Sources                                                      | 257        |
|          | Online Sources                                                         | 273        |
|          | Index                                                           | 274 |