

Contents

List of Illustrations	viii
Acknowledgments	ix
Linguistic Conventions	x
Notes on Contributors	xii
Series Introduction: Reordering an Imperial Modern Asia	1
Jack Fairey and Brian P. Farrell
Concepts and Historiography	2
Definitions	4
Revisiting Empire in Asia	6
Introduction: Globalizing Empire in Asia	9
Brian P. Farrell and Donna Brunero
Entanglements and Empire	9
Framing Time, Place, and Themes	14
1 In the Center of It All: Thoughts from the Edge of Empire	31
Thomas David DuBois
Introduction	31
Defining Empire	33
Empires and States	36
Material Foundations	38
Empire and Culture	43
Conclusion	47
2 Legal Fiction: Extraterritoriality as an Instrument of British Power in China in the “Long Nineteenth Century”	53
Robert Bickers
Designing and Implementing Extraterritoriality	56
Establishing a British Supreme Court	59
Practice in Amoy (Xiamen)	62
Disciplining British Subjects	66
Deploying the Regime More Widely	69
Conclusion	72

3	East Asian Empire and Technology: Imperial Japan and Mobilizing Infrastructure, 1868–1931	81
	John P. DiMoia
	Science and Imperialism: Approaching the “Problem” of East Asia and the Early Modern	82
	Meiji Japan as a “Progressive” Model	84
	Meiji Japan: Infrastructure and Intimations of Empire, 1853–95	85
	Rail and Colonial Expansion: Contested Spaces and Nascent Empire	88
	Taisho Japan and Styles of Colonial Rule: Apparent Contradictions	94
	The Embrace of the Rational: Toward an Imperial Modernity	99
4	Suzerainty versus Sovereignty: Establishing French Empire in Indochina	107
	Bruce M. Lockhart
	Sovereignty versus Suzerainty	108
	Cambodia, 1856–67	109
	Vietnam, 1874–85	116
	Laos, 1865–93	122
	Conclusion	126
5	Staking Out an Imperial States System: The Imperial Frontier in Asia in the “Long Nineteenth Century”	137
	Brian P. Farrell
	The Imperial Frontier	139
	The Nineteenth-Century Frontier	143
	The Imperial Frontier and the Asian States System	147
	Conclusion	174
6	Human Mobility in Russia’s Asian Empire	187
	Paul W. Werth
	Russian Asia and Asian Russia	189
	Movement: Variations on a Theme	192
	Embracing Mobility	200
	The Discontents of Movement	204
	Conclusion	207
7	Faith in Empire: Ottoman Religion and Imperial Governance in the “Long Nineteenth Century”	215
	Jack Fairey
	Ottoman Religion and Imperial Governance, ca. 1800	217
	Relationship between Religion and State	219
	“Defensive Modernization,” Reforms, and the Threat of the West	222
	The Impact of the Tanzimat on State Ideology	225

Narrowing of the Religious Sphere	228
Soft Power and the Domestication of Religious Authorities	232
Conclusion	235
8 Maritime Goes Global: The British Maritime Empire in Asia Donna Brunero	249
Maritime Empires in Asia Pre-1800	252
The British as a Maritime Power in Asia	254
A Thalassocracy: Victorian Imaginings?	258
The Great Modern Asian Port	261
Challenges to British Maritime Empire	266
The Empire from the Deck of a Ship	268
Conclusion	273
9 Empire in the Long Run: Asia in the Nineteenth Century Odd Arne Westad	281
Index	287