

Contents

Acknowledgements	XI
List of Illustrations	XII
A Note on Transliteration and Dates	XVI
Transliteration List	XVII

Introduction 1

Sufism, Colonialism and Gender Dynamics	1
Sufism and the Female Body	7

1 Islamic Renewal Movements, Colonial Occupation, and the Ḥatmiyya in the Red Sea Region 12

Islam and the Idrīsī Tradition in Northeast Africa	12
The Establishment of the Ḥatmiyya in the Red Sea Region	19

2 Sufis at the Crossroads: Regional Conflicts and Colonial Penetration 25

The Ḥatmiyya up against the Sudanese Mahdī	25
A Marriage Alliance between the Mīrḡanī and the Beni ‘Amer People	31
Sīdī Hāšim: Spy or walī ?	36

3 Islam, Gender and Leadership 43

Female Heirs by Blood Alone: A Power Vacuum?	43
Women and Heresy in Sufi Centres	47
Embodying Religious Orthodoxy	53

4 Fragmented, (In)Visible and (Un)Told Stories 63

Looking for Muslim Women in Northeast African History	63
Regional Women’s Centres of Empowerment and Religious Learning	70
Baraka , Itinerant Preaching and the Mobility of Pious Women	82

5 Sufi Women’s “Fantasy”, Performances and Fashion 88

Imagination and Desire in Women’s Bodies	88
Women’s Fantasia in Sufi Regional Centres	91
Visiting a Fashionable, Cosmopolitan Woman	102

- 6 Growing Visibility in the Political Arena 112
 - Women's Bodies, Photography, and Colonialism 112
 - Growing Popularity Broadcast through Visual Media 120
 - Visibility, Visuality and Power in Portraits of the Šarīfa 133

- 7 Marvels, Charisma and Modernity 140
 - Performed and Contested Karāmāt 140
 - Modern Enchantment: Colonial Technologies and Infrastructures 144
 - Mediating Conflicts 159

- 8 Military Bodies: Askaris, Officials and “the Female Warrior” 165
 - Religious Intermediaries and Regional Networks 165
 - Enlisting Askaris and Colonial Propaganda 175
 - The Defeat of Italy 183

- 9 A Female Icon of Muslim “Emancipation” for the Conquest of Ethiopia (1936–1941) 187
 - Building Mosques: Muslim Policies from Libya to Ethiopia 187
 - A Female Icon of Muslim “Emancipation” 189
 - The Mosques Built in Honour of Sittī ‘Alawiyya 193
 - Muslim Attitudes towards the Italian Occupation: From Collaboration to Agency 200

- 10 Conclusion: Sufi Memories 205
 - Women's Embodied Archives and Spirit Possession 205
 - Embodying Sittī ‘Alawiyya's Visit to Harar 212
 - Sufi Visions and Historical Imagination 217

Bibliography 223

Index 247