

Contents

Acknowledgments	IX
List of Maps	X
List of Illustrations	XIII
List of Abbreviations	XIV
Notes on Contributors	XV

- 1 Preface
Ships of Dreams 1
Hélène Vu Thanh
- 2 Profit and Souls in Global Missions (16th–18th c.)
An Introduction 7
Hélène Vu Thanh and Ines G. Županov

PART 1

Missionaries as Traders: The Case of the Society of Jesus

- 3 The Cross and the Silk
Trading Activities by the Society of Jesus in Japan (1549–1650) 47
Hélène Vu Thanh
- 4 Yerba Maté in the Jesuit Reductions
From Ritual Drink to Economic Resource (17th–18th Centuries) 71
Claudio Ferlan

PART 2

The Integration of Religious Orders into Global/Local Economic Networks

- 5 From Tenants to Landlords
Jesuits and Land Ownership in Japan (1552–1614) 97
Rômulo da Silva Ehalt

- 6 Going Local, Becoming Global
 The Connected Histories of Early Modern Missionary Economies in Persia and the Persian Gulf 124
 Christian Windler
- 7 Monsoonal Missions
 Asian Trade Diasporas in Spanish Missionary Strategies, 1570–1700 151
 Ryan D. Crewe

PART 3

Funding the Missions: Finances and Evangelization

- 8 Funding the Propagation of the Faith
 Noble Strategies and the Financial Support of Jesuit Colleges in France and Italy (c. 1590–c. 1650) 183
 Ariane Boltanski
- 9 The College of San Hermenegildo in Seville
 The Centerpiece of a Global Financial Network 207
 Sébastien Malaprade

PART 4

Moralizing the Economy: Religious Controversies and Debates

- 10 Missionaries as Merchants and Mercenaries
 Religious Controversies over Commerce in Southeast Asia 237
 Tara Alberts
- 11 Regulating the Forbidden
 Local Rules and Debates on the Missionary Economy in the Jesuit Province of Paraguay (17th–18th Centuries) 269
 Fabian Fechner
- 12 Afterword
 For What is a Man Profited, if He Shall Gain the Whole World, and Lose His Own Soul? 288
 Ines G. Županov